In the interest of creating a more extensive selection of rare historical book reprints, we have chosen to reproduce this title even though it may possibly have occasional imperfections such as missing and blurred pages, missing text, poor pictures, markings, dark backgrounds and other reproduction issues beyond our control. Because this work is culturally important, we have made it available as a part of our commitment to protecting, preserving and promoting the world's literature. Thank you for your understanding.

PREFACE.

This book is the fruit of many years of extended investigation and patient research. Those only who have engaged in similar pursuits can be aware of the untold labor required to collect and systematize the jumbled materials for a volume like this. The driblets have been culled here and there from state, county, town, parish, church and family records, and from an extended correspondence with individuals who were intimately connected with particular branches of the family. To the many valued friends who have assisted in the enterprize grateful acknowledgments are tendered.

It is confidently felt that while unimportant inaccuracies may appear, the genealogy as a whole is perfectly reliable. This assertion is made in full view of the consideration that many persons who will peruse these pages have much better means of information concerning some families than can reasonably be expected from the writer. Those who are competent to detect blemishes will, it is hoped, make due allowance should they be found, while they remember it is much easier to find fault with the work than to do it better. It is well nigh impossible to produce a publication of this kind which shall be entirely free from imperfections. A certain author defines all history to be merely "an approximation towards truth." Without endorsing fully this humiliating statement, yet, when the imperfection of everything human is considered, it must be admitted the sentiment has some foundation in fact. There doubtless are omissions in the book though it includes, so far as could be obtained, every person of the name in its varied orthography throughout the United States. And there are probably some mistakes since it is impossible at this late day to prepare genealogical statistics with perfect accuracy. Honest George Dyer, a classical scholar and writer of the last generation whose long life of literary toil exemplified the extreme care he eulogizes, asks enthusiastically, "Who can calculate on the consequence of a single date, sometimes to an individual, sometimes to a family, and sometimes even to the public?" If under the circumstances, the depravity of figures has represented some individuals as born a century or two out of time, or forced them into incongruous marriages, or prematurely consigned them to the shades, they can console themselves with the reflection that they are at liberty still to live on as though no such mishap had occurred.

Very few such books will ever be written a second time; the pains are too great and the praise is too little. In the present instance however, the "years and years of dismal drudgery evidenced upon every page" has been a labor of love. The annalist designs the present issue only as the foundation of a volume yet more extended and complete to be put to press at some day in the near future. This will afford opportunity to correct any mistakes which may have inadvertently crept into the present text, and also for additions in the form of extended notices of distinguished members of the family, thereby greatly enhancing the interest and value of the forthcoming work. Massive materials of this kind are already on hand which can be arranged for the press in a comparatively short time if sufficient encouragement shall be afforded to warrant the undertaking. A manuscript is already completed containing the genealogy of Sir John Fitz of Fitz–ford, Devonshire County, England, embracing five generations in the 13th and 14th centuries. And there is little or no doubt that this is the ancient source of the family in America.

No apology is needed for such an undertaking as this; it justifies itself. It cannot but afford satisfaction to know that some of the old Puritan blood flows in our veins. Unquestionably they were the most remarkable body of men which the world has ever produced. To this noble ancestry we owe a deep debt of esteem and gratitude we can never fully repay.

> "They that on glorious ancestors enlarge,
> Prove their debt, instead of their discharge."
> Night Thoughts.

We may heed Cowper's caution and do something toward discharging our indebtedness by bringing from the treasures of the past and holding up to the view of the present and of coming generations, their example of private virtue and of public usefulness; their self-denying moderation in counsel and unsparing energy in action; and, above all, their childlike trust in God, and their implicit faith in the Gospel of Christ as the only sure foundation of Christian churches, schools and institutions.

The Family in the United States.

FIRST GENERATION.

The American ancestor of the family of FITTS or FITZ, was ROBERT, who, with his wife, GRACE D., was among the original settlers of Salisbury, Mass. GRACE LORD

"At a Generall Court held at Boston, the 6th day of the 7th month, 1638, Mr. Bradstreet and associates are alowed (vpon their petition) to begin a plantation at Merrimack." In 1639, Winthrop says that another plantation was begun upon the north side of Merrimack, called Salisbury.

The record of land granted Robert Fitts is on page 21 of the early town records. "The first or original list of y^e^ townsmen of Salisbury in y^e^ booke of Records.

Rob. ffitts. [68 in all.]

This is a true copie as they were first listed in y^e^ booke of Records. As attests; Tho. Bradbury, rec'r."

The name "Robert Fitt, Planter," as he signed it, occurs in the Salisbury and the old Norfolk county records at subsequent dates as follows: 1640, October; 1642, March 5; 1649, February 3 and April 27; 1650, December 25; 1652, July 18; 1657, April 7 and April 14; 1662, July 2.

About this time he removed with his family to Ipswich, where we find him Jan. 5, 1663, and again Dec. 22, 1664. He died at Ipswich, May 9, 1665, leaving, says Savage, "a wife Grace and a son Abraham. [† 3.]"

His Will, dated at Ipswich, Jan. 5, 1663, was admitted to Probate, June 26, 1665. An inventory of his estate was returned Sept. 26, 1665, amounting to 230 £. 0 s. 4 d. It has been said that four hundred pounds was about the value of the largest estates in New England in 1661.

His widow was at Ipswich, June 17, and Oct. 9, 1667, and where she died April 25, 1684. She was probably a second wife, since Abraham calls her "mother-in-law." There are some indications that her maiden name was Townsend, since she "appoints her loving brother, Robert Tounsend of Ipswich, her attorney in a suit against Edward Gove." One of the wives of Robert Fitts may have been a Barnes, since his Will mentions "my brother, William Barnes."

Tradition says that previous to his going to Salisbury, Robert Fitts settled in Ipswich, to which plantation he came in 1635 from Fitz-ford, Tavistock, Devon county, England. He was a man of education, of high social position, and of Puritan integrity.

"Secundo die Septembris, 1635.

"Theis vnder uritten names are to be transported to St. Christopher's; imbarqued in the William and John,—Rowland Langram, Mr. —— have been examined by the Minister of Graues*e*nd, and tooke the oaths of Alleg. and Suprem: die et A° p'.

Robert Fitt, 18, [and others]."

Had he been in Virginia still earlier?

Petition, June, 1628.

"Robert Fitt, Anne his wife, and Alice Harris, a poor widow, to the Privy Council. Have been 14 years planters in Virginia, and lately brought over 16 hogsheads of tobacco, for which they have not the means to pay custom. Pray for a warrant for the free discharge of the tobacco, to enable them and their families to return to their plantations."

State Papers, Colonial Series.

I. 2. "Richard Fitts and Sara Ordway was marryed Octobar 8th, 1654."

He was a kinsman of Robert, and settled first in Ipswich, and afterward in Newbury. She is supposed to have been a sister of James Ordway, who was born in Wales about 1620, taxed in Dover in 1649, and about that time moved to Newbury.

"Att the Gen'rall Court holden att New Towne, May 6th, 1635, Wessacumcon is allowed by the court to be a plantacon * * * hereafter to be called Newberry." The name of Richard Fitts is in the list of 91 grantees on the Proprietor's Book of Records. It also is found in town and county records, 1642, Dec. 7; 1655, June 30 and Sept. 24; 1659, Mar. 25; 1661, May 16.

Richard Fitts, called "planter," left no children. A son, however, of Samuel Symonds, Esq., town clerk, deputy governor, &c., who is supposed by some to have had for his first wife the daughter of Gov. Winthrop, was named after him, Richard Fitts Symonds.

"Richard Fitts dyed Decembar the 24, 1672. * * * Sarah, y^e^ wife of Richard Fitts, dyed April 24, 1667." His Will, dated Dec. 2, 1672, was presented for Probate, Mar. 25, 1673. Inventory returned Mar. 25, 1673—164 £. 18 s. 6 d. He appointed his "well beloved kinsman, Abraham Fitt," executor, and gave him all his lands and his personal estate.

SECOND GENERATION.

II. 1.–3. "Abraham ffitts was maried to Sarah Tomson the (16th) day of May, 1655, by ye worshipfull m'r. Symon Bradstreet. She was the daughter of Mr. Simon Thompson, who was born about 1610, was in Ipswich 1636, made freeman 1641 or 1648, deeded land to Abraham Fitts 1658, and made his will and died 1676, appointing Abraham Fitts joint executor and heir.

After the death of his first wife, June 5, 1664, Mr. Fitts married the widow of Tyler Birdley, who was in Ipswich 1648. "Abraham Fitt & Rebecca Birdly maryed the 7 of Jan. 1668." She survived him, and in 1679, deeded to her son, Andrew Birdley, all her right in the estate of her first husband, and died June 2, 1709.

Writings having the signature of "Abraham Fitts of Ipswich, Husbandman," bear the following dates: 1667, June 8; 1670, June 6; 1671, May 9; 1672, Feb. 27; 1676, July; 1678, Feb. 18; 1680, April 12; 1684. May 17; 1690, Jan. 16.

"Admitted to freedom and took oath accordingly. Abraham ffitt. Ipswich, Mass., Mar. 11, 1673–4."

1675, Nov. 30, with 28 other men from Ipswich, he was impressed for the Narraganset expedition of King Philip's war, in which, on Dec. 19, three Ipswich men were killed and twenty-two wounded. He was also with the expedition to Canada in the year 1690.

He died March 27, 1692. His Will, dated Feb. 24, was presented for Probate, March 29, and the inventory of his estate was returned April 6, all in the year 1692. Appraisement, 366 £. 10 s.; debts, 98 £. 15 s. 5½ d.

THIRD GENERATION.

111. 3.–9. "Richard Fitts was married to Sarah Thorne, March y^e^ 18th, 169¾."

In 1691, Jan. 16, his father conveyed to him in fee all his lands in Salisbury, which included the original grant to his grandfather, Robert Fitts. He soon afterward moved to Salisbury, where he built a block house for his residence, and to shield his family from the Indians, by whom they were repeatedly attacked. It is a noteworthy circumstance that the same lands are now in possession of his descendants, having never gone out of the family name.

Bonds and conveyances between himself and others, bear the following dates: 1698, Oct. 29; 1700, Feb. 28; 1703, June 2; 1705, Sept. 5; 1709; 1715, Mar. 2; 1717, May 24, and June 14; 1718, Feb. 15, Mar. 9 and July 19; 1739, June 4. His Will was dated July 25, 1741, and admitted to Probate, Jan. 14, 1745. Inventory, Dec. 2, 1745. "Richard Fitts died Dec. 3^d^, 1744."

Mrs. Fitts was a superior woman, and remarkable for resolution of character, bravery and piety, walking sixteen miles to worship with the people of God at Ipswich, of which church she was a member. "She was a dutiful and affectionate wife, a kind mother, and a pious, charitable and useful member of society. She died March, 1775, aged 100 years."

VI. 13.–28. David Fitts married Delia Bucklin of Rehoboth, Mass., Feb. 8. 1795. She was from a distinguished family of nine children. Thomas an older brother was an eminent physician at Hopkinton, Mass., while her youngest brother, Sylvester F. Bucklin, was pastor of the First church of Marlboro', settled Nov. 2, 1808, dismissed June 20, 1832.

The following obituary notice was written by her pastor, Rev. J. O. Barney of Seekonk, Mass.

"The decease of this eminent mother in Israel deserves more than the mere notice that she died. She was the daughter of Mr. John Bucklin, and widow of the late Mr. David Fitts. She was born under the British crown, in Seekonk, Dec. 2, 1774, and died in the same place, April 29, 1861. From early childhood she was taught the truths of the Christian religion, which were of unspeakable comfort to her in after life. She in turn taught these same precious truths to her own children, and lived to see five of them, with their husbands and wives, and a number of her grand children, members of the same church with herself. Mrs. Fitts remembered the Sabbath, and reverenced the sanctuary, and no one was more constantly there, and no one more devout and happy. She loved the Sabbath school and Bible class, and to extreme old age, was a teacher in the one, or a member of the other. She was a lover of good people; a friend to mission, and to all humane and benevolent institutions; and proved her friendship by her liberal contributions, and by the provisions of her Will.

Though her mind was partially impaired by great age so as to be forgetful of worldly things, yet, the mention of the truths of the Bible, the name of Jesus, or the voice of prayer, would call out such expressions of joy as to convince all her friends that her knowledge of spiritual things and her love of them, were as when in the vigor of life. Her excellency of character and uniform piety greatly endeared her to the church and people with whom she worshiped, by whom she will be long held in affectionate remembrance. 'The righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance.' She died as she lived, full of faith and of the Holy Ghost. Her end was peace.

Seekonk, June 2, 1861."

Here follows an obituary of Mr. Fitts.

"Died in Seekonk, May 18, 1846; Mr. David Fitts, son of Daniel and Christianna (Smith) Fitts, formerly of Ipswich, Mass., in his seventy-ninth year. For more than fifty years he was an inhabitant of Seekonk, where he sustained, by common consent, the reputation of a good neighbor, a good citizen, and an honest man. Mr. Fitts was a lover of the Sabbath, a constant attendant upon public worship, and, with a single exception, was present at the public services of the Annual Thanksgiving for more than fifty successive years. In infancy, he was dedicated to God by his parents in baptism, and, although the vows for their son lay long under the altar, yet they were not forgotten of God.

It is a singular fact, and often mentioned by the deceased with gratitude, that he had scarcely a day's sickness in all his life; and although he had nine children, no death had occurred in his family for more than half a century.

For some time past Mr. Fitts had indulged a hope of a glorious immortality through faith and grace. A short time before his death, he expressed his confidence and hope of a better world; and almost with his expiring breath, like Stephen, he committed his departing spirit into the hands of his Saviour saying, 'Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.'"

The following appropriate lines are engraved on his monument:

> "Weep not for me—'Tis unkindness to weep,
> The weary worn frame is but fallen asleep;
> It sleeps now in Jesus! How sweet his repose!
> No more of fatigue or endurance it knows."
